

IMMEDIATE RELEASE

More global awards for Tasmanian Lodge

Hot on the heels of being named as one of the 20 most luxurious fishing Lodges in the world by Luxury Travel magazine, The Lodge at Tarraleah was named as “One of the best 65 new hotels in the world” by Condé Nast Traveller UK.

The Lodge at Tarraleah has now been recognised on the “Global Hot List 2007 - the insider guide to scene-stealing hotels” by one of the world’s foremost luxury travel magazines, Condé Nast Traveler USA, who said;

“... some hotels are more equal than others Their superiority amid legions of also-rans comes not by dint of brand or price or even celebrity influence but from the plain fact that they deliver a superb night's stay, a judgment that only comes from firsthand experience.”

Tarraleah Lodge GM Niall Mitchell said “These hotel critics travel anonymously and pay their own way, so to this day we still do not know who they were.”

“The awards are fantastic for Australia” said Mr Mitchell, “as we are the only hotel in the Southern hemisphere to be on all three lists.”

“We know that the Tarraleah Estate will feature on the Channel 7 travel show The Great Outdoors on June 9th which is syndicated on a global basis. We also know that The Lodge will feature in the winter edition of the Sophisticated Traveller magazine in the Australian Financial Review and in the July/August issue of the Travel + Leisure magazine.”

As he straightened his kilt en route to conduct a guided whiskey tasting of the 120 malts in The Lodge, Mr Mitchell said “ All guests at Tarraleah are special – the real reward comes from delivering unique experiences and outstanding levels of comfort and personal service to each and every one of them.”

“Our people are the key: Executive Chef Will Godman consistently delivering outstanding Tasmanian dining at the Wildside restaurant, our guide, Hans Naarding, telling what he saw at the last sighting of a Tasmanian tiger, through to Head Housekeeper Wendy Donaghy spotting those tiny details that make a difference.”

Lodge rooms feature gloriously indulgent bedrooms and decadent spa bathrooms. There is an enormous range of guest activities including golf, spa treatments, cliff-top hot tub, wilderness adventure and fly fishing. All Lodge bookings include fine dining at the Wildside Restaurant and a round of golf.

The Lodge at Tarraleah is located in the heart of Tasmania’s stunning Highlands, a scenic two hour drive from Hobart airport, Launceston airport or the Devonport ferry terminal. Tarraleah is situated along the popular Hobart – Strahan touring route, which has been voted in the top 10 list of ‘Great Australian Drives’.
